FAQ

1. Product color difference

Flower arrangement pictures are all taken in kind. Due to lighting and monitor color deviations, there may be slight differences between the actual product and the color of the photo. This problem is not a product quality issue and the actual product shall prevail.

2. About floral products

Since artificial flowers are handmade products and there are many factors that may be encountered during express delivery:

There may be extrusion and deformation, but it will not cause damage to the baby. After receiving the goods, please sort it out according to the pictures, and then it will return to its original fullness after leaving it naturally for about 3 days.

There may be a little bit of florets falling off, please just reattach them by hand.

Some sets have flower branches that are too long due to the needs of floral styling. When we check and pack, we will first fold the flower branches that are too long. After receiving the goods, we will sort them out according to the pictures, re-expand the flower branches, and then leave them naturally for about 3 days. Restore.
